1 This case involves institutionalized physical and psychological child abuse at Mt.
 2 Bachelor Academy, a “therapeutic boarding school” for troubled teens that was ordered closed
 3 by the State of Oregon Department of Human Services. These Plaintiffs, now all adults, had 4 their already troubled childhoods made worse by systematic physical and psychological abuse
 5 that goes far beyond any reasonable notion of “boot camp” or “tough love” schools. Defendants
 6 program was staffed by untrained, often only high-school educated counselors and instructors
 7 who attempted to psychologically break down and indoctrinate children in their care, typically 8 by berating them in the harshest of terms and subjecting them to extreme physical conditions and 9 deprivation. Plaintiffs were isolated from their families, allowed only very limited telephone 10 calls every other week, which were monitored by the school’s staff. Parents were instructed not 11 to believe their children if they reported malfeasance or abuse — the children will lie, it is all a 12 part of the treatment process — or so the parents were told by the school’s staff. In fact,
 13 Plaintiffs were denied basic medical care, and run through a battery of “Lifestep” group
 14 encounters that ran for days at a time with no breaks, where little or no sleep was permitted, very 15 little food provided, and required traumatizing activities, such as making known victims of child 16 sexual abuse act out sexual propositioning and activities on or with other residents as well as 17 adult staff. Discipline consisted of physical punishment akin to a 1950s chain gang, being sent 18 out into the wilderness with little or no food or supplies, at times alone, often for days. Even 19 minor infractions were met with complete social isolation in which the child was not allowed to 20 speak to or even make eye contact with anyone at the facility, sometimes for up to six weeks or 21 more at a time. At the same time, this “school” would remove the children from any 22 educational activity during these extended periods of punishment, only allowing Plaintiffs to 23 engage in self-abusing personal examinations while in isolation, and left them without 24 transferable academic credits. In short, Mt. Bachelor Academy was no school at all, and only 25 made things worse psychologically for these Plaintiffs.

Defendant Mt. Bachelor Educational Center, Inc., (hereinafter "MBEC"), is an Oregon corporation incorporated in 1988 and registered to do business in the State of Oregon. At all times relevant to this complaint, MBEC owned and operated the facility known as "Mt. Bachelor Academy" that boarded, psychologically conditioned, disciplined, and ostensibly educated teenage individuals, including Plaintiffs in this case, and purported to offer therapeutic, educational and residential services to these children. Plaintiffs allege on information and belief, pursuant to ORCP 17 C(4), that discovery will show Defendant Barry Weiss and Defendant Morris Weiss are individual California residents. Plaintiffs allege on information and belief, pursuant to ORCP 17 C(4), that discovery will show Defendant Barry Weiss Trust is a trust created in the state of California. Plaintiffs allege on information and belief, pursuant to ORCP 17 C(4), that discovery will show Defendant Morris Weiss Trust is a trust created in the state of California. Defendant College Health Enterprises is a California corporation not registered to do business in the State of Oregon. Plaintiffs allege on information and belief, pursuant to ORCP 17 C(4), that discovery will show that Defendant College Health Enterprises is the corporate parent of, owner of, successor in interest to, or entity formerly known as Educational Centers Investors, and that Defendants Barry Weiss, Morris Weiss, Barry Weiss

 Trust, and Morris Weiss Trust owned or operated College Health Enterprises and Educational Center Investors. Plaintiffs allege on information and belief, pursuant to ORCP 17 C(4), that discovery will show that Defendants Barry Weiss, Morris Weiss, Barry Weiss Trust, Morris Weiss Trust and College Health Enterprises/Educational Health Enterprises, or predecessors or successors in interest thereto, owned, controlled, and/or operated MBEC and Mt. Bachelor Academy until some point in 1998. Defendants Barry Weiss, Morris Weiss, Barry Weiss Trust, Morris Weiss Trust, and College Health Enterprises will be identified hereinafter collectively as the "Weiss Defendants." Defendant Aspen Education Group, Inc. (hereinafter "Aspen"), is a California corporation not registered to do business in the State of Oregon formed in 1997 as a successor to or subsidiary of Defendant College Health Enterprises. At all times relevant to this complaint, Aspen operated various facilities meant to correct the behavior of teenagers viewed as behaviorally "troubled," emotionally disturbed, or suffering from addiction or other mental disorders. At certain times relevant to this complaint, Aspen was the owner of or successor in interest to Defendant MBEC. Defendant Aspen permanently closed Mt. Bachelor Academy in December of 2009. Defendant CRC Health Group, Inc., is a California company not registered to do business in the State of Oregon, but conducts significant and sustained business in Multnomah County, and Defendant CRC Health Oregon, Inc., is an Oregon corporation with several offices or facilities located in Multnomah County, Oregon and elsewhere in the State.

1 Plaintiffs allege that discovery will show that at certain times relevant to this complaint, the
 2 collective CRC entities were the owners of, successors in interest to, and/or controlling entities
 3 of both Defendant Aspen and MBEC, as well as the successors in interest to the Weiss
 4 Defendants. The CRC entities will be referred to hereinafter collectively simply as "Defendant
 5 CRC." Plaintiffs allege on information and belief, pursuant to ORCP 17 C(4), that discovery
 6 will show Mt. Bachelor Academy operated from 1988 until 1998 under the ownership and/or 7 direction of Weiss Defendants, and that in or about May of 1998, the Weiss Defendants sold Mt.
 8 Bachelor Academy to Defendant Aspen and/or Defendant CRC. Where applicable, MBEC, the 9 Weiss Defendants, Aspen, and CRC will all be referred to collectively as "Defendants." Mt.
 10 Bachelor Academy operated as a "therapeutic" or "emotional growth" boarding school from 11 1988 until the State of Oregon permanently suspended Mt. Bachelor Academy's operating 12 license in November of 2009.

13 4.

14 At all times relevant to this complaint, Defendants, through their agents, solicited and 15 accepted teenage individuals for placement at Mt. Bachelor Academy as a "therapeutic boarding 16 school" away from and out of contact with Plaintiffs' families and friends. At all times relevant 17 to this complaint, Defendants advertised and represented Mt. Bachelor Academy to be a place
 18 where parents could send their teenage children with substance abuse, behavioral, motivational, 19 emotional, and discipline problems, as a place where those problems would be remedied by 20 caring professionals. Defendants presented their therapeutic learning model as one that 21 provided academic and emotional growth, as well as being a boarding school that provided a 22 warm and nurturing family atmosphere. In the course of accepting minor residents, including 23 Plaintiffs here, Defendants undertook in loco parentis responsibilities for the Plaintiffs, and 24 strictly controlled Plaintiffs' schedule, activities, and even basic physical movements.

25 5.

26 At all times relevant to this complaint, Defendants employed and empowered a group of adults identified as teachers, instructors, and counselors (or identified by similar titles)

ostensibly to provide instruction, education, counseling, moral guidance, addiction recovery, behavioral correction, and physical supervision to minor residents at Mt. Bachelor Academy.
 This class of employee will be referred to generically throughout this complaint as "counselors."
 Defendants empowered these counselors to enforce rules and policies as part of their employment, both those policies established by Defendants and those chosen or developed by the counselors themselves. Almost every one of Defendants' counselors had no formal training in psychology, psychiatry, or child development, and in most cases possessed no education beyond high school. These individuals attempted to engage in psychological treatment and behavior modification of children at Mt. Bachelor Academy.

Defendants knew and intended their counselors' authority to extend to physical restraint, extreme physical and psychological stressing, and cruel emotional manipulation and attacks.
 Thus, Mt. Bachelor Academy's program was one of institutionalized physical and psychological abuse of its minor residents. At all times relevant to this complaint, Defendants knew of, approved of, authorized, ratified, and/or required the use of all of the techniques used by its counselors against Plaintiffs and described below. In engaging in or utilizing these techniques, individual counselors acted in the time and space limits of their agency with Defendants, were motivated at least in part by a desire to serve Defendants, and these actions were of a type that counselors were required to do as part of their employment duties on behalf of Defendants.

Plaintiffs—all minors at the time—were subjected to physical abuse including but not limited to: exposure to the elements; extreme cold; extreme heat; forced standing; forcible and unnecessary physical restraint; denial of meals; sleep deprivation; light deprivation; sound torture; forced marches; strip searches; ingestion of spoiled or rotting food; forcing the Plaintiffs to beat on inanimate objects until their hands bled; forcing other residents to physically attack or restrain Plaintiffs; denial of restroom use; denial of prescription medication; and extended periods of extreme social isolation (during which the punished party could not look or smile at, or talk to any other residents, and had to eat all meals facing a wall). Many of these forms of abuse were an official, mandatory part of what Defendants called their “Lifestep” events—a series of group encounters sometimes lasting days – during which Plaintiffs were kept in one room, not allowed to sleep, given minimal food, and forced to endure the various sensory tortures. Other abuses were part of official, sanctioned discipline during which Plaintiffs were subjected to extreme forms of punitive labor for no pay, including eight to twelve hour days of such things as digging into the frozen earth, stump removal using hand tools without assistance, construction or dismantling of large rough structures, and moving rocks up and down a hill for no reason only to return the rocks to the original location, with only intermittent five minute breaks and little food during hours of such labor. All of this abusive conduct was central to Defendants’ disciplinary and “therapeutic” method, and specifically approved or ratified by all Defendants at the corporate level. While all of the Plaintiffs suffered from all of these abuses to some extent, specific instances of physical abuse suffered by each Plaintiff are described below.

Plaintiffs—all minors at the time—were subjected to psychological abuse and humiliation, including but not limited to: constant abusive and berating yelling, both by staff and by other residents who were required to verbally attack Plaintiffs as part of the Program; forced isolation from all human interaction for days and sometimes weeks at a time; denigrating sexual insults by staff; forcing Plaintiffs to verbally abuse other residents; humiliating role-playing before peers and staff (which included sexual components); disclosing and re-enacting sexual abuse episodes experienced elsewhere; forced sexual contact with/propositioning of other residents and staff; and isolation from family contacts. All of this abusive conduct was central to Defendants’ disciplinary and “therapeutic” method, and specifically approved or ratified by Defendants. The specific psychological abuse suffered by each Plaintiff is described below.

The various forms of abusive conduct and techniques discussed in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, were an official part of Defendants’ “Lifestep” program or part of the ordinary and

1 approved discipline of the school. The abusive conduct will hereinafter be generally and 2 collectively referred to as the "Program." Defendants knew that the Program consisted of 3 intentional conduct engaged in by their employees and agents, that this conduct was of the type
 4 described above, that Defendants' employees and agents were conducted on Defendants' behalf,
 5 and that it resulted in physical and mental injury to residents of Mt. Bachelor Academy, 6 including these Plaintiffs. The Program was unjustified and unregulated, it was 7 psychologically, behaviorally and therapeutically unfounded, and it was objectively cruel to 8 Plaintiffs. The Program was intended/designed to be cruel and psychologically damaging,
 9 particularly with regard to the culture under which these children were raised.

10 10.

11 Defendants' counselors used their authorized employment duties to inflict the Program
 12 on Plaintiffs, and child abuse resulted from administration of the Program. The counselors' 13 administration of the Program was: (1) committed in direct connection and for the purposes of 14 fulfilling the counselors' employment and agency with the Defendants; (2) committed within the 15 time and space limits of their agency as counselor; (3) done initially and at least in part from 16 their desire to serve the interests of Defendants; (4) done directly in the performance of their 17 duties as counselor; (5) consisted generally of actions of a kind and nature which the counselors 18 were required to perform; and (6) done at the direction of, and pursuant to, the power vested in 19 them by the Defendants.

20 11.

21 The "child abuse" described throughout this complaint meets the definition of "child 22 abuse" found in ORS 12.117(2), and Defendants' knowledge and approval of the use of the 23 "child abuse" by their employees and agents amounts to "knowingly allowing, permitting, or 24 encouraging child abuse" as those terms are used in ORS 12.117. Plaintiffs are all under 40
 25 years of age, and pursuant to ORS 12.117(1), their claims are timely filed.

 By Plaintiff MLM Against All Defendants

Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

Plaintiff MLM realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, above.

13.

Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff MLM by soliciting her and/or her parents to attend their "therapeutic boarding school," accepting her as a resident, and closely governing her conduct there. Defendants assumed in loco parentis responsibility for Plaintiff MLM's well-being, took charge of every aspect of Plaintiff MLM's life, and eliminated virtually all of MLM's interaction with the outside world. At the same time, Defendants ostensibly were instructing her on her emotional and psychological condition, assisting her in changing her behavior, and claiming to provide standard educational services. In creating this special relationship, Defendants' responsibilities towards Plaintiff MLM included a specific duty to avoid the infliction of emotional distress.

Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, knowingly and intentionally caused severe emotional distress to Plaintiff MLM when they physically and psychologically abused her through the program. Defendants refused to allow Plaintiff MLM unmonitored contact with her family, and would end calls or destroy letters if Plaintiff MLM attempted to tell her family what was occurring. During all seven on-campus "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption), Defendants forced Plaintiff MLM to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff. For instance, shortly after Plaintiff MLM had been enrolled at Mt. Bachelor Academy, Defendants began their process of psychological conditioning, and forced MLM to disclose the sexual abuse she suffered at the hands of her biological father and her later rape by an acquaintance to her entire class. Then knowing of this earlier abuse, Defendants proceeded to require her counselors and fellow residents to call her names such as "whore" and "slut," and told that her abuse by her father was her own fault.

Defendants then forced Plaintiff MLM to act out sexual roles with both her fellow residents and adult male counselors during Lifestep group encounters. In one such example, Plaintiff MLM was required to sit down on the floor in front of each of the males in the room, spread her legs by placing one foot on each of the males' knees while they were seated above her in a chair, and say, "This leg is Christmas, this leg is New Years, why don't you come and see me between the holidays," demanding great enthusiasm from Plaintiff MLM. Plaintiff MLM was forced to repeat this process with all of the males in the room 15 times during one "Lifestep" encounter, and was required to start the cycle over and over again during these 15 times because she either lacked sufficient enthusiasm for staff, or she began to sob uncontrollably due to her prior abuse and being forced to sexually proposition adult men. Plaintiff MLM was required to go through this "Lifestep" an additional two times after expressing her ongoing depression to staff at various times. Defendants also engaged in forced isolation of Plaintiff MLM by forbidding her any interaction with her fellow residents, including a period lasting approximately two and a half weeks on at least one occasion and an extended period when MLM was deeply depressed and suicidal from the effects of the Program. This list of abusive acts is not exclusive.

Plaintiff MLM did in fact suffer severe emotional distress as a result of this abuse that occurred as part of the Program, and such physical and psychological abuse of a child is beyond the bounds of all socially tolerable conduct.

16.

Defendants' counselors used the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, to intentionally inflict severe emotional distress through the abuse of Plaintiff MLM. Defendants' Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the counselors' agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

17.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff MLM has

O'DONNELL, CLARK & CREW

Portland, Oregon 97209
Telephone: (503) 306-0224

suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe physical, mental, and emotional harm at the time of the abuse, as well as later-manifesting and/or later-arising permanent psychological damage that was distinct in time and logic from what was suffered at the time of the abuse. These harms resulted in Plaintiff MLM's non-economic damages in the amount of $1,000,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff MLM has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and medical treatment. Plaintiff MLM has also suffered lost economic opportunity for the interruption of her studies and the loss of family funds for secondary education. Plaintiff MLM's economic damages total the approximate amount of $500,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF
By Plaintiff MLM Against All Defendants
Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress

19.

Plaintiff MLM realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 18, above.

Defendants, acting within their special relationship, subjected Plaintiff MLM to severe ridicule, harsh and unnecessary disciplinary measures, and denial of an education, as described above. Additionally, as part of the Program, Defendants' counselors would engage in denigrating, cruel, and abusive berating of Plaintiff MLM, frequently yelling at her that she was worthless, a "slut," and unworthy of love. For example, on one occasion after an extended berating of this type by an adult male counselor, Plaintiff attempted to commit suicide by jumping out of a window, and was only saved at the last moment by a fellow resident.

Defendants knew of this suicide attempt and of MLM's subsequent dissociative state during the following several days, but ignored it and gave MLM no assistance or counseling.

21.

Defendants' administration of the Program was an intentional or reckless disregard of Plaintiff's feelings while in this responsible relationship. Defendants brutally invaded Plaintiff MLM's protected interest in her privacy, emotional health, and psychological well-being, and this invasion was of a sufficient quality or magnitude to warrant recovery of emotional distress damages. As a result of this, Plaintiff MLM suffered the damages described in paragraphs 17 and 18, above.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
By Plaintiff MLM Against All Defendants
Battery

Plaintiff MLM realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 21, above.

23.

During the various "Lifestep" group encounters, Defendants controlled the physical conduct of all of the residents and counselors, and directed, coerced, or required both other residents and staff to physically batter Plaintiff MLM as part of the "Lifestep" program. Other residents were forced under duress to participate by threat of severe punishments if they did not appear to be participating fully in the physical assaults on their peers.

24.

Specifically, during one "Lifestep," individual residents—including Plaintiff MLM—were required to "break into" a circle of other residents by running at the circle at high speed and physically fighting to gain entry while those in the circle linked arms and fought under the orders of Defendants to prevent entry. In the course of this activity, both the "defending" residents and those who were trying to break in sustained significant physical injuries. In particular, after one of these attempts trying to break in, Plaintiff MLM lost vision in one eye for a short period of time but was not given medical attention, and was required to continue attempting to break through the circle of bodies. In another "Lifestep," Defendants ordered Plaintiff MLM to rip out of a bedsheet that was forcibly being held down by other residents. While being held under this sheet and trying to rip through it, Plaintiff MLM sustained numerous painful abrasions and fabric burns as well as feelings of claustrophobia and helplessness.

The "breaking into" the circle and defending it from other residents, as well as being held under a sheet and being forced to struggle out, constituted harmful and offensive touching to which Plaintiff MLM did not and could not consent. At all times relevant to this complaint, the persons who battered Plaintiff MLM were acting under the forced compulsion or directions of Defendants.

26.

As a result of this physical battery at the orders of Defendants, Plaintiff MLM suffered the damages described in paragraphs 17 and 18, above.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
By Plaintiff MLM Against All Defendants
Breach of Contract — Third Party Donee Beneficiary

27.

Plaintiff MLM realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 26, above.

28.

Defendants created a contract with Plaintiff MLM's parents for her direct benefit, and both parties intended that the contract benefit Plaintiff MLM. Plaintiff MLM's parents intended to make a gift to her of the educational, boarding, and therapeutic services promised in the contract.

29.

On information and belief, Plaintiff MLM alleges that discovery will show that the terms

1 of the contract—express or implied—included education sufficient to keep her on the same
 2 graduation track and curriculum level as her age-group peers who did not attend Mt. Bachelor
 3 Academy, humane living conditions, and treatment for any of Plaintiff MLM's emotional or 4 psychological conditions. No term in the contract disclosed that the methods used at Mt.
 5 Bachelor Academy included the deprivation of education services, inhumane living conditions,
 6 and severe physical and psychological abuse described above.

7 30.

8 Defendants breached the express or implied terms of the contract by subjecting Plaintiff
 9 MLM to the deprivation of educational services during punishment periods, a lack of 10 transferrable education credits, intolerable living conditions, and severe physical and 11 psychological abuse described above. Defendants' breach of this contract caused Plaintiff 12 MLM to lose the benefits that she would have received under the proper performance of the 13 contract.

14 31.

15 As a result of Defendants' breach of the express or implied terms of the contract,
 16 third-party donee beneficiary Plaintiff MLM suffered the loss benefits flowing from the contract
 17 as set out as part of the economic damages alleged in paragraph 18, above. These contract 18 benefits total an amount to be determined by the jury at trial and include the tuition, room and 19 board paid under the contract.

20 FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
 21 By Plaintiff NAA Against All Defendants
 22 Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

23 32.

24 Plaintiff NAA realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, above.

25 33.

26 Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff NAA by soliciting him and/or his parents to attend their "therapeutic boarding school," accepting him as a resident, and closely governing his conduct there. Defendants assumed in loco parentis responsibility for Plaintiff NAA's well-being, took charge of every aspect of Plaintiff NAA's life, and eliminated virtually all of NAA's interaction with the outside world. At the same time, Defendants ostensibly were instructing him on his emotional and psychological condition, assisting him in changing his behavior, and claiming to provide standard educational services. In creating this special relationship, Defendants' responsibilities towards Plaintiff NAA included a specific duty to avoid the infliction of emotional distress.

Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, knowingly and intentionally caused severe emotional distress to Plaintiff NAA when they physically and psychologically abused him through the program. Defendants also refused to allow Plaintiff NAA unmonitored contact with his family, and would end calls or destroy letters if Plaintiff NAA attempted to tell his family what was occurring. During all seven on-campus "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption), Defendants forced Plaintiff NAA to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff NAA. Often these stressors would trigger uncontrollable asthma attacks in NAA. Defendants also withheld NAA's asthma inhaler despite his inhaler dependence, and threatened to take it away because another student had used the inhaler without NAA's permission. Plaintiff NAA was forced to move piles of rock as punishment only to have another resident move the pile back as their punishment. On one occasion, Defendants forced Plaintiff to crawl down into a septic tank to check and see why pipes were blocked, and on another, forced Plaintiff to swing a pickax on a firebreak despite Plaintiff injuring a lumbar spinal disk. During another of the "Lifestep" group encounters, Plaintiff NAA was forced to rip through a sheet being held tightly down over him, and after he successfully did so, he was held underneath another sheet (much more tightly) for a longer period. Plaintiff also suffered from extreme cold when being forced to sleep outdoors in -20° F weather. This list of abusive acts is not exclusive.

Plaintiff NAA did in fact suffer severe emotional distress as a result of this abuse that occurred as part of the Program, and such physical and psychological abuse of a child is beyond the bounds of all socially tolerable conduct.

36.

Defendants' counselors used the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, to intentionally inflict severe emotional distress through the abuse of Plaintiff NAA. Defendants' Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the counselors' agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

37.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff NAA has suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe physical, mental, and emotional harm at the time of the abuse, as well as later-manifesting and/or later-arising permanent psychological damage that was distinct in time and logic from what was suffered at the time of the abuse. These harms resulted in Plaintiff NAA's non-economic damages in the amount of $1,000,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff NAA has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and medical treatment. Plaintiff has also suffered lost economic opportunity for the interruption of his studies, and suffered lost wages because he is unable to work in his profession of filmmaking due to the injury to his back from swinging the pickax. Plaintiff NAA's economic damages total the approximate amount of $750,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
 By Plaintiff NAA Against All Defendants
Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress

39.

Plaintiff NAA realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, and 32 through 38, above.

40.

Defendants, acting within their special relationship, subjected Plaintiff NAA to severe ridicule, harsh and unnecessary disciplinary measures, and denial of an education, as described above. Additionally, as part of the Program, Defendants' counselors would engage in denigrating, cruel, and abusive berating of Plaintiff NAA, frequently yelling at him, mocking him harshly and requiring other residents do so, and being told that he was worthless. Defendants also required Plaintiff NAA to submit to being observed while naked and getting dressed.

41.

Defendants' administration of the Program was an intentional or reckless disregard of Plaintiff's feelings while in this responsible relationship. Defendants brutally invaded Plaintiff NAA's protected interest in his privacy, emotional health, and psychological well-being, and this invasion was of a sufficient quality or magnitude to warrant recovery of emotional distress damages. As a result of this, Plaintiff NAA suffered the damages described in paragraphs 37 and 38, above.

SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

1 During the various "Lifestep" group encounters, Defendants controlled the physical
 2 conduct of all of the residents and counselors, and directed, coerced, or required both other
 3 residents and staff to physically batter Plaintiff NAA as part of the "Lifestep" program. Other
 4 residents were forced under duress to participate by threat of severe punishments if they did not
 5 appear to be participating fully in the physical assaults on their peers.

6 44.

7 Specifically, during one "Lifestep," individual residents—including Plaintiff
 8 NAA—were required to "break into" a circle of other residents by running at the circle at high 9 speed and physically fighting to gain entry while those in the circle linked arms and fought under 10 the orders of Defendants to prevent entry. In the course of this activity, both the "defending"
 11 residents and those who were trying to break in sustained significant physical injuries. Plaintiff
 12 NAA suffered injuries both as the individual breaking in and as one of the members of the circle.

13 In another "Lifestep," Defendants ordered Plaintiff NAA to rip out of a bedsheet that was 14 forcibly being held down by other residents. Plaintiff NAA ripped through one sheet only to be 15 held down more forcefully under a sheet a second time. While being held under these sheets
 16 and trying to rip through them, Plaintiff NAA sustained numerous painful abrasions and fabric
 17 burns as well as feelings of claustrophobia and helplessness.

18 45.

19 The "breaking into" the circle and defending it from other residents, as well as being held
 20 under a sheet and being forced to struggle out, constituted harmful and offensive touching to 21 which Plaintiff NAA did not and could not consent. At all times relevant to this complaint, the 22 persons who battered Plaintiff NAA were acting under the forced compulsion or directions of 23 Defendants.

EIGHTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

By Plaintiff NAA Against All Defendants

Breach of Contract — Third Party Donee Beneficiary

47.

Plaintiff NAA realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, and 32 through 46, above.

48.

Defendants created a contract with Plaintiff NAA's parents for his direct benefit, and both parties intended that the contract benefit Plaintiff NAA. Plaintiff NAA's parents intended to make a gift to him of the educational, boarding, and therapeutic services promised in the contract.

49.

On information and belief, Plaintiff NAA alleges that discovery will show that the terms of the contract—express or implied—included education sufficient to keep him on the same graduation track and curriculum level as his age-group peers who did not attend Mt. Bachelor Academy, humane living conditions, and treatment for any of Plaintiff NAA's emotional or psychological conditions. No term in the contract disclosed that the methods used at Mt. Defendants breached the express or implied terms of the contract by subjecting Plaintiff NAA to the deprivation of educational services during punishment periods, a lack of transferrable education credits, intolerable living conditions, and severe physical and psychological abuse described above. Defendants' breach of this contract caused Plaintiff NAA to lose the benefits that he would have received under the proper performance of the contract.

NINTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
 By Plaintiff TGB Against All Defendants
Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

52.

Plaintiff TGB realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, above.

53.

Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff TGB by soliciting her and/or her 11 parents to attend their "therapeutic boarding school," accepting her as a resident, and closely 12 governing her conduct there. Defendants assumed in loco parentis responsibility for Plaintiff

 19 independently developed this type of relationship with Plaintiff TGB through her enrollment as 20 SUWS Wilderness School in Idaho, another subsidiary of Defendants Aspen and CRC.
 21 Plaintiff TGB was enrolled at SUWS for over three weeks prior to being transferred to Mt.
 22 Bachelor Academy.

Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6

 3 on-campus "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption),
 4 Defendants forced Plaintiff TGB to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep
 5 deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive
 6 shouting at Plaintiff. For instance, as a collective punishment for all residents of Mt. Bachelor
 7 Academy in October of 1997, the girls were separated from the boys, with Plaintiff TGB and the 8 other girls taken to a private ranch and forced to build a road, with Defendants demanding
 9 Plaintiff TGB dig up sagebrush and large rocks all day with a pickax until her hands blistered 10 extensively. Plaintiff TGB was also subjected to weeks-long social isolation punishments (with 11 one being 5 weeks, and one 6 weeks long) during which time she was required to dig out tree
 12 stumps with hand tools, run all day long with wheelbarrows full of gravel, and clean bathroom
 13 floors without gloves using straight bleach and a toothbrush, all the while being forbidden to talk
 14 to or look at anyone. As part of one of Plaintiff TGB's final on-campus "Lifesteps," the group
 15 was taken out into the woods in the middle of the night in the dead of winter wearing only 16 sleeveless and legless wetsuits, then fully submerged in a partially frozen trough of water during 17 a cult-like, pseudo-religious "rebirthing" ceremony, and forced to remain outside in this

 26 Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the counselors'
 agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff TGB has suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe physical, mental, and emotional harm at the time of the abuse, as well as later-manifesting and/or later-arising permanent psychological damage that was distinct in time and logic from what was suffered at the time of the abuse. These harms resulted in Plaintiff TGB's non-economic damages in the amount of $1,000,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff TGB has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and medical treatment. Plaintiff TGB has also suffered lost economic opportunity for the interruption of her studies and the loss of family funds for secondary education. Plaintiff TGB's economic damages total the approximate amount of $500,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

7 Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6

 11 "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption), Defendants
 12 forced Plaintiff RB to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, as well 13 as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff RB. For instance, in one of the 14 "Lifesteps," Plaintiff RB—a young teenage boy—was forced to wear bikini underwear and 15 repeatedly dance in front of the encounter group and staff as a male exotic dancer. Also, as a 16 collective punishment for all residents of Mt. Bachelor Academy in October of 1997, the boys
 17 were separated from the girls, and Plaintiff RB and the other boys were taken to another ranch
 18 and forced to remove a seven to eight foot pile of manure from a barn, and to remove large 19 boulders from irrigation ditches. Also during this time, Plaintiff RB was forced to run up an 20 extended steep grade repeatedly with other groups of boys to the point that even though he was 21 an exceptional athlete, RB was left in excessive pain for approximately two weeks afterwards.
 22 During a Lifestep in which RB was left in the wilderness without adequate supplies, including
 23 not having sufficient socks, Plaintiff RB's feet were constantly cold and wet, resulting in trench 24 foot. As the trench foot healed, it caused Plaintiff RB significant pain. Despite several 25 complaints about the pain in his feet, Plaintiff RB was denied medical care for several days.

Plaintiff MST realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, above.

Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff MST by soliciting him and/or his mother to attend their "therapeutic boarding school," accepting him as a resident, and closely governing his conduct there. Defendants assumed in loco parentis responsibility for Plaintiff MST's well-being, took charge of every aspect of Plaintiff MST's life, and eliminated virtually all of MST's interaction with the outside world. At the same time, Defendants ostensibly were instructing him on his emotional and psychological condition, assisting him in changing his behavior, and claiming to provide standard educational services. In creating this special relationship, Defendants' responsibilities towards Plaintiff MST included a specific duty to avoid the infliction of emotional distress.

Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, knowingly and intentionally caused severe emotional distress to Plaintiff MST when they physically and psychologically abused him through the program. Defendants also refused to allow Plaintiff MST unmonitored contact with his family, and would end calls or destroy letters if Plaintiff MST attempted to tell his family what was occurring. During the first three "Lifestep" group encounters (including going through the third step on two occasions), Defendants forced Plaintiff MST to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, and denial of restroom use, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff MST. For instance, shortly after Plaintiff MST enrolled at Mt. Bachelor Academy, Defendants began their process of psychological conditioning, and forced MST to disclose to his entire class the physical abuse he suffered at the hands of his father. Then knowing of this earlier abuse, Defendants required Plaintiff MST to be verbally abused by staff and other residents, and to verbally abuse them himself, as well as requiring MST to blame himself for his father's abuse. Defendants also arbitrarily deprived Plaintiff MST of his psychiatric medication.

Faced with this abuse, Plaintiff MST ran away often and was subjected to severe discipline, including being left alone in the woods — as a 13 year old — for up to 24 hours, social isolation for up to six weeks at a time on several occasions, a nine week diversion to a wilderness program, and punitive, strenuous physical labor for about 10 hours a day for days and weeks at a time. This list of abusive acts is not exclusive.

Plaintiff MST did in fact suffer severe emotional distress as a result of this abuse that occurred as part of the Program, and such physical and psychological abuse of a child is beyond the bounds of all socially tolerable conduct.

96.

Defendants' counselors used the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, to intentionally inflict severe emotional distress through the abuse of Plaintiff MST. Defendants' Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the counselors' agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

97.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff MST has suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe physical, mental, and emotional harm at the time of the abuse, as well as later-manifesting and/or later-arising permanent psychological damage that was distinct in time and logic from what was suffered at the time of the abuse. These harms resulted in Plaintiff MST's non-economic damages in the amount of $1,000,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff MST has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and medical treatment. Plaintiff MST has also suffered lost economic opportunity for the 17 Defendants also required Plaintiff MST to submit to being observed while naked and getting

NINETEENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
By Plaintiff MST Against All Defendants
Battery

102.

Plaintiff MST realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, and 92 through 101, above.

103.

During the various "Lifestep" group encounters, Defendants controlled the physical conduct of all of the residents and counselors, and directed, coerced, or required both other residents and staff to physically batter Plaintiff MST as part of the "Lifestep" program. Other residents were forced under duress to participate by threat of severe punishments if they did not appear to be participating fully in the physical assaults on their peers.

Specifically, during one "Lifestep," individual residents—including Plaintiff MST—were required to "break into" a circle of other residents by running at the circle at high speed and physically fighting to gain entry while those in the circle linked arms and fought under the orders of Defendants to prevent entry. In the course of this activity, both the "defending" residents and those who were trying to break in sustained significant physical injuries. Plaintiff MST suffered injuries both as the individual breaking in and as one of the members of the circle.

In another "Lifestep," Defendants ordered Plaintiff MST to rip out of a bedsheet that was forcibly being held down by other residents. While being held under this sheet and trying to rip through it, Plaintiff MST sustained numerous painful abrasions and fabric burns as well as feelings of claustrophobia and helplessness.

The "breaking into" the circle and defending it from other residents, as well as being held under a sheet and being forced to struggle out, constituted harmful and offensive touching to which Plaintiff MST did not and could not consent. At all times relevant to this complaint, the persons who battered Plaintiff MST were acting under the forced compulsion or directions of Defendants.

106.

As a result of this physical battery at the orders of Defendants, Plaintiff MST suffered the damages described in paragraphs 97 and 98, above.

TWENTIETH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
By Plaintiff MST Against All Defendants
Breach of Contract — Third Party Donee Beneficiary

107.

Plaintiff MST realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, and 92 through 106, above.

108.

Defendants created a contract with Plaintiff MST's parents for his direct benefit, and both parties intended that the contract benefit Plaintiff MST. Plaintiff MST's parents intended to make a gift to him of the educational, boarding, and therapeutic services promised in the contract.

109.

On information and belief, Plaintiff MST alleges that discovery will show that the terms of the contract—express or implied—included education sufficient to keep him on the same graduation track and curriculum level as his age-group peers who did not attend Mt. Bachelor Academy, humane living conditions, and treatment for any of Plaintiff MST's emotional or psychological conditions. No term in the contract disclosed that the methods used at Mt. Bachelor Academy included the deprivation of education services, inhumane living conditions, and severe physical and psychological abuse described above.

Defendants breached the express or implied terms of the contract by subjecting Plaintiff

5 111.

6 As a result of Defendants' breach of the express or implied terms of the contract,
 7 third-party donee beneficiary Plaintiff MST suffered the loss benefits flowing from the contract

 11 forced Plaintiff TL to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial
 12 of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff.
 13 Upon arrival at Mt. Bachelor Academy, Defendants' counselors began to call her names such as 14 "whore" and "slut," and required other residents do the same. Defendants then forced Plaintiff 15 TL to act out sexual roles with both her fellow residents and adult male counselors during 16 Lifestep group encounters, demanding that Plaintiff TL walk up to the males in the group,
 17 including the adult male counselors, and ask them "Do you have a gun in your pocket or are you

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff TL has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and medical treatment. above. Additionally, as part of the Program, Defendants' counselors would engage in denigrating, cruel, and abusive berating of Plaintiff TL, frequently yelling at her that she was worthless, a "slut," and unworthy of love. Furthermore, the counselor who engaged in years of sexual contact with Plaintiff TL, described in paragraph 124 below, informed Defendants prior to his sexual touching of Plaintiff TL that he was concerned he would not be able to control his sexual actions with TL. Despite being told this by the man himself, Defendants did nothing to separate this man from contact with Plaintiff TL, and the sexual touching lasted for approximately two years.

Defendants' administration of the Program was an intentional or reckless disregard of Plaintiff's feelings while in this responsible relationship. Defendants brutally invaded Plaintiff TL's protected interest in her privacy, emotional health, and psychological well-being, and this invasion was of a sufficient quality or magnitude to warrant recovery of emotional distress damages. described above. Defendants' breach of this contract caused Plaintiff BPO to lose the benefits that he would have received under the proper performance of the contract.

As a result of Defendants' breach of the express or implied terms of the contract, third-party donee beneficiary Plaintiff BPO suffered the loss benefits flowing from the contract as set out as part of the economic damages alleged in paragraph 138, above. These contract benefits total an amount to be determined by the jury at trial and include the tuition, room and board paid under the contract, as well as any costs associated with completing his high school education after leaving Mt. Bachelor Academy.

TWENTY-NINTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
By Plaintiff NCQ Against All Defendants
Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

152.

Plaintiff NCQ realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, above.

153.

Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff NCQ by soliciting him and/or his parents to attend their "therapeutic boarding school," accepting him as a resident, and closely governing his conduct there. Defendants assumed in loco parentis responsibility for Plaintiff NCQ's well-being, took charge of every aspect of Plaintiff NCQ's life, and eliminated virtually all of NCQ's interaction with the outside world. At the same time, Defendants ostensibly were instructing him on his emotional and psychological condition, assisting him in changing his behavior, and claiming to provide standard educational services. In creating this special relationship, Defendants' responsibilities towards Plaintiff NCQ included a specific duty to avoid the infliction of emotional distress.

when they physically and psychologically abused him through the program. Defendants also refused to allow Plaintiff NCQ unmonitored contact with his family, and would end calls or destroy letters if Plaintiff NCQ attempted to tell his family what was occurring. During all seven on-campus "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption), Defendants forced Plaintiff NCQ to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff NCQ. For instance, during one "Lifestep" that occurred while camping, Defendants forced Plaintiff NCQ to eat pita bread with one-inch growths of mold on it. In retaliation for Plaintiff NCQ passing out flyers about "brainwashing" at Mt. Bachelor Academy, Defendants had Plaintiff NCQ committed to a mental hospital, and demanded he renounce the contents of the flyers or not be allowed to see any of his friends at Mt. Bachelor Academy again. When Plaintiff NCQ tore his meniscus while snowboarding at Mt. Bachelor Academy, Defendants refused to allow him any medical care. Plaintiff NCQ also developed severe tendinitis as a result of the forced running during various disciplinary punishments, but was refused medical care and required to continue running despite the injury. This list of abusive acts is not exclusive.

Plaintiff NCQ did in fact suffer severe emotional distress as a result of this abuse that occurred as part of the Program, and such physical and psychological abuse of a child is beyond the bounds of all socially tolerable conduct.

156.

Defendants' counselors used the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, to intentionally inflict severe emotional distress through the abuse of Plaintiff NCQ. Defendants' Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the counselors' agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff NCQ has suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe physical, mental, and emotional harm at the time of the abuse, as well as later-manifesting and/or later-arising permanent psychological damage that was distinct in time and logic from what was suffered at the time of the abuse. These harms resulted in Plaintiff NCQ's non-economic damages in the amount of $1,000,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff NCQ has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and medical treatment. Plaintiff NCQ has also suffered lost economic opportunity for the interruption of his studies. Plaintiff NCQ's economic damages total the approximate amount of $500,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

THIRTIETH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
By Plaintiff NCQ Against All Defendants
Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress

159.

Plaintiff NCQ realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, and 152 through 158, above.

160.

Defendants, acting within their special relationship, subjected Plaintiff NCQ to severe ridicule, harsh and unnecessary disciplinary measures, and denial of an education, as described above. Additionally, as part of the Program, Defendants' counselors would engage in denigrating, cruel, and abusive berating of Plaintiff NCQ, frequently yelling at him, mocking him harshly and requiring other residents do so, and yelling at him that he was worthless.

Defendants also required Plaintiff NCQ to submit to being observed while naked and getting

 2 mother began to die; she died while he was on an airplane after Defendants eventually permitted
 3 the return.

4 161.

5 Defendants' administration of the Program was an intentional or reckless disregard of
 6 Plaintiff's feelings while in this responsible relationship. Defendants brutally invaded Plaintiff
 7 NCQ's protected interest in his privacy, emotional health, and psychological well-being, and this
 8 invasion was of a sufficient quality or magnitude to warrant recovery of emotional distress

 21 residents were forced under duress to participate by threat of severe punishments if they did not

1 residents and those who were trying to break in sustained significant physical injuries. Plaintiff
 2 NCQ suffered injuries both as the individual breaking in and as one of the members of the circle.

3 In another "Lifestep," Defendants ordered Plaintiff NCQ to rip out of a bedsheet that was 4 forcibly being held down by other residents. While being held under this sheet and trying to rip
 5 through it, Plaintiff NCQ sustained numerous painful abrasions and fabric burns as well as 6 feelings of claustrophobia and helplessness.

7 165.

8 The "breaking into" the circle and defending it from other residents, as well as being held
 9 under a sheet and being forced to struggle out, constituted harmful and offensive touching to 10 which Plaintiff NCQ did not and could not consent. At all times relevant to this complaint, the 11 persons who battered Plaintiff NCQ were acting under the forced compulsion or directions of 12 Defendants.

13 166.

14 As a result of this physical battery at the orders of Defendants, Plaintiff NCQ suffered the 22 168.

23 Defendants created a contract with Plaintiff NCQ's parents for his direct benefit, and

On information and belief, Plaintiff NCQ alleges that discovery will show that the terms of the contract—express or implied—included education sufficient to keep him on the same graduation track and curriculum level as his age-group peers who did not attend Mt. Bachelor Academy, humane living conditions, and treatment for any of Plaintiff NCQ's emotional or psychological conditions. No term in the contract disclosed that the methods used at Mt. Bachelor Academy included the deprivation of education services, inhumane living conditions, and severe physical and psychological abuse described above.

Defendants breached the express or implied terms of the contract by subjecting Plaintiff NCQ to the deprivation of educational services during punishment periods, a lack of transferrable education credits, intolerable living conditions, and severe physical and psychological abuse described above. Defendants' breach of this contract caused Plaintiff NCQ to lose the benefits that he would have received under the proper performance of the contract.

171.

As a result of Defendants' breach of the express or implied terms of the contract, third-party donee beneficiary Plaintiff NCQ suffered the loss benefits flowing from the contract as set out as part of the economic damages alleged in paragraph 158, above. Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff WBL by soliciting him and/or his

 4 virtually all of WBL's interaction with the outside world. At the same time, Defendants 174.

9 Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6

 12 refused to allow Plaintiff WBL unmonitored contact with his family and close friends. During

 15 deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, 16 cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff WBL. For instance, in the course of one of the seven 17 on-campus "Lifestep" encounter groups, Plaintiff WBL was forced to hit a mattress until his 18 knuckles bled; he still has scarring on his knuckles from that activity. In another "Lifestep" 19 encounter group, Plaintiff was required to verbally attack his mother and blame her for his 20 problems for approximately eight hours—while being deprived of food, water, restroom use, and 21 sleep, and subjected to the song "Mother" played at extremely high volume for the entire eight
 22 hours—despite the fact that Plaintiff WBL's mother had passed away less than four months prior 23 to his admission at Mt. Bachelor Academy, and his father had passed away approximately four 24 years earlier. Plaintiff WBL alleges that discovery will show that Mt. Bachelor Academy knew
 25 of his mother's death, and still required Plaintiff WBL to go through this "Lifestep." Plaintiff
 26 WBL is diabetic, and Defendants refused him access to his insulin, refused him access to food,

9 intentionally inflict severe emotional distress through the abuse of Plaintiff WBL. Defendants'
10 Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the counselors'
11 agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

12 177.

13 As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff WBL has 14 suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe
15 physical, mental, and emotional harm at the time of the abuse, as well as later-manifesting and/or
16 later-arising permanent psychological damage that was distinct in time and logic from what was

Defendants, acting within their special relationship, subjected Plaintiff WBL to severe ridicule, harsh and unnecessary disciplinary measures, and denial of an education, as described above. Defendants also required Plaintiff WBL to submit to being observed while naked and getting dressed. On one occasion, one of the Mt. Bachelor Academy staff exposed himself to Plaintiff WBL. In the alternative to the allegation in paragraph 174 that Defendants knew of Plaintiff's mother's death prior to the "Lifestep" in which he was forced to attack her in absentia, Defendants should have known of this, and Plaintiff suffered significant psychological trauma (apart from the physical trauma of the ordeal) of having to vilify his recently-deceased mother.

Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

14 Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff Doe 110 by soliciting her and/or

 21 special relationship, Defendants' responsibilities towards Plaintiff Doe 110 included a specific

 23 also independently developed this type of relationship with Plaintiff Doe 110 through her weeks
 24 at SUWS Wilderness School in Idaho, another subsidiary of Defendants Aspen and CRC.

25 194.

26 Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, knowingly and intentionally caused severe emotional distress to Plaintiff Doe 110 when they physically and psychologically abused her through the program. Plaintiff Doe 110's three weeks at SUWS included at least one strip search; limited bathing on the order of one bathing opportunity during the first two weeks, during which time Plaintiff Doe 110 could be observed by the group of other minors and adults; day-long forced marches every day to the point of severely blistered feet (for which no medical treatment was given and no recuperation was allowed); daily food intake consisting entirely of a small amount of oats for breakfast, half a pita bread with peanut butter and two apricots for lunch, and only lentils for dinner; and severe sunburn for which no treatment or prevention was provided. Once at Mt. Bachelor Academy, Defendants refused to allow Plaintiff Doe 110 unmonitored contact with her family, and would end calls or destroy letters if Plaintiff Doe 110 attempted to tell her family what was occurring. During all seven on-campus "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption), Defendants forced Plaintiff Doe 110 to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff. Staff members constantly shouted at Plaintiff Doe 110 and berated her, saying that she was selfish, a liar, that she was full of shit, insincere, a bad friend and daughter, and so on. Plaintiff Doe 110 was also forced to endure numerous strip searches, constant attacks over several weeks by staff when she was perceived as having an eating disorder (Plaintiff Doe 110 did not), being immersed in a horse trough filled with partially frozen water during a cult-like, pseudo-religious "rebirthing" ceremony, as well as being forced to clean up other residents' blood and vomit without protection. Defendants created a contract with Plaintiff Doe 110's parents for her direct benefit, and both parties intended that the contract benefit Plaintiff Doe 110. Plaintiff Doe 110's parents intended to make a gift to her of the educational, boarding, and therapeutic services promised in the contract.

FORTY-FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF
 By Plaintiff Doe 111 Against All Defendants
Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

212.

Plaintiff Doe 111 realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, above.

213.

Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff Doe 111 by soliciting him and/or his parents to attend their "therapeutic boarding school," accepting him as a resident, and closely governing his conduct there. Defendants assumed in loco parentis responsibility for Plaintiff Doe 111's well-being, took charge of every aspect of Plaintiff Doe 111's life, and eliminated virtually all of Doe 111's interaction with the outside world. At the same time, Defendants ostensibly were instructing him on his emotional and psychological condition, assisting him in changing his behavior, and claiming to provide standard educational services. Defendants Aspen and CRC Health Group also independently developed this type of relationship with Plaintiff Doe 111 through his enrollment as SUWS Wilderness School in Idaho, another subsidiary of Defendants Aspen and CRC. In creating this special relationship, Defendants' responsibilities towards Plaintiff Doe 111 included a specific duty to avoid the infliction of emotional distress.

Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, knowingly and intentionally caused severe emotional distress to Plaintiff Doe 111 when they physically and psychologically abused him through the program. Defendants also refused to allow Plaintiff Doe 111 unmonitored contact with his family. During all seven on-campus "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption), Defendants forced Plaintiff Doe 111 to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff Doe 111. For instance, in the course of one of the seven on-campus "Lifestep" encounter groups, Plaintiff Doe 111's group was forced to remain awake for several days while being subjected to psychologically disorienting and abusive self-examination. Plaintiff Doe 111 was also forced to reveal deeply personal matters only to have those used to psychologically break him down and berate him. Plaintiff Doe 111 was also frequently required as punishment to dig stumps of large, old trees out of the ground with hand tools, typically taking at least a week. On one occasion, an emotionally unstable and bullying staff member threatened in a very serious manner that he was going to beat Doe 111 with his fists; the staff member advanced on Doe 111 with his fist cocked, and with apparently every intent of striking Plaintiff Doe 111. The staffer stopped only at the last second. While at Mt. Bachelor Academy, Plaintiff Doe 111 suffered several anxiety attacks brought on by the conditions, but never received medical or psychological care. This list of abuses is not exclusive.

Plaintiff Doe 111 did in fact suffer severe emotional distress as a result of this abuse that occurred as part of the Program, and such physical and psychological abuse of a child is beyond the bounds of all socially tolerable conduct.

216.

Defendants' counselors used the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, to intentionally inflict severe emotional distress through the abuse of Plaintiff Doe 111. Defendants' Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the counselors' agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

217.

As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff Doe 111 has suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe

6 218.

7 As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff Doe 111
 8 has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and 9 medical treatment. Plaintiff Doe 111 has also suffered lost economic opportunity for the 10 interruption of his studies. Plaintiff Doe 111's economic damages total the approximate amount
 11 of $500,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

19 Defendants, acting within their special relationship, subjected Plaintiff Doe 111 to severe
 20 ridicule, harsh and unnecessary disciplinary measures, and denial of an education, as described 21 above. Additionally, as part of the Program, Defendants' counselors would engage in
 22 denigrating, cruel, and abusive berating of Plaintiff Doe 111, frequently yelling at him, mocking
 23 him harshly and requiring other residents do so, and yelling at him that he was worthless.
 24 Defendants also required Plaintiff Doe 111 to submit to being observed while naked and getting
 25 dressed.

Defendants brutally invaded Plaintiff Doe 111's protected interest in his privacy, emotional health, and psychological well-being, and this invasion was of a sufficient quality or magnitude to warrant recovery of emotional distress damages. As a result of this, Plaintiff suffered the damages described in paragraphs 217 and 218, above.

Plaintiff Doe 111 realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, and 212 through 221, above.

During the various "Lifestep" group encounters, Defendants controlled the physical conduct of all of the residents and counselors, and directed, coerced, or required both other residents and staff to physically batter Plaintiff Doe 111 as part of the "Lifestep" program. Other residents were forced under duress to participate by threat of severe punishments if they did not appear to be participating fully in the physical assaults on their peers.

Specifically, during one "Lifestep," individual residents—including Plaintiff Doe 111—were required to "break into" a circle of other residents by running at the circle at high speed and physically fighting to gain entry while those in the circle linked arms and fought under the orders of Defendants to prevent entry. In the course of this activity, both the "defending" residents and those who were trying to break in sustained significant physical injuries. Plaintiff Doe 111 suffered injuries both as the individual breaking in and as one of the members of the circle. In another "Lifestep," Defendants ordered Plaintiff Doe 111 to rip out of a bedsheet that was forcibly being held down by other residents. While being held under this sheet and trying to rip through it, Plaintiff Doe 111 sustained numerous painful abrasions and fabric burns as well

 13 interruption), Defendants forced Plaintiff Doe 112 to endure temperature extremes, meal
 14 deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating,
 15 cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff. For instance, as a collective punishment for all 16 residents of Mt. Bachelor Academy in October of 1997, the girls were separated from the boys, 17 with Plaintiff Doe 112 and the other girls taken to a private ranch and forced to build a road,
 18 with Defendants demanding Plaintiff Doe 112 dig up rocks and grade a road all day with a 19 shovel or pickax until her hands blistered extensively. During one of the "Lifesteps," Plaintiff 20 Doe 112 and her group were sat down in front of a spread of rotted and rancid food, which they 21 cautiously began to eat, believing that they would be punished otherwise. Shortly thereafter, 22 Defendants' staff members began to throw this tainted food on the children, and staff dumped a
 23 gallon jar of rancid mayonnaise on Doe 112. For nearly a full day following, Plaintiff Doe 112
 24 and her group were forced to clean the mess, without being allowed to clean themselves, to the

Breach of Contract — Third Party Donee Beneficiary

Plaintiff Doe 113 realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, and 252 through 266, above.

Defendants created a contract with Plaintiff Doe 113's parents for her direct benefit, and both parties intended that the contract benefit Plaintiff Doe 113. Plaintiff Doe 113's parents intended to make a gift to her of the educational, boarding, and therapeutic services promised in the contract.

269.

On information and belief, Plaintiff Doe 113 alleges that discovery will show that the terms of the contract—express or implied—included education sufficient to keep her on the same graduation track and curriculum level as her age-group peers who did not attend Mt. Bachelor Academy, humane living conditions, and treatment for any of Plaintiff Doe 113's emotional or psychological conditions. No term in the contract disclosed that the methods used at Mt. Bachelor Academy included the deprivation of education services, inhumane living conditions, and severe physical and psychological abuse described above.

Defendants breached the express or implied terms of the contract by subjecting Plaintiff Doe 113 to the deprivation of educational services during punishment periods, a lack of transferrable education credits, intolerable living conditions, and severe physical and psychological abuse described above. Defendants assumed in loco parentis responsibility for Plaintiff Doe 114's well-being, took charge of every aspect of Plaintiff Doe 114's life, and eliminated virtually all of Doe 114's interaction with the outside world. to attending Mt. Bachelor Academy.

Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, knowingly and intentionally caused severe emotional distress to Plaintiff Doe 114 when they physically and psychologically abused him through the program. Defendants also refused to allow Plaintiff Doe 114 unmonitored contact with his family. During all seven on-campus "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption), Defendants forced Plaintiff Doe 114 to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff Doe 114. At Aspen Achievement Academy, Plaintiff Doe 114 was subjected to an invasive and humiliating strip search, forced to live off of only 2 bananas and a bag of granola for 3 days, forced to hike between 5 to 15 miles a day carrying what limited supplies he was given in a tarp secured with rope, refused medical attention for a severe laceration suffered when Doe 114 was forced to carve his own spoon so that he might eat, and forced to defecate with the group surrounding him (and watch others do so while standing in the group) as punishment. Plaintiff Doe 114 was also forced to wade into leech infested pools for water and contracted giardia from unfiltered water the group obtained on the trail that he was forced to drink. At Mt. Bachelor Academy, Plaintiff Doe 114 was forced to beat on pillows with his fists until the skin was all worn away from between his index and middle fingers—something for which he still has scars. Once, after hitting a door out of frustration at his treatment, Plaintiff Doe 114 broke his hand and was refused medical treatment for hours. Defendants also engaged in forced isolation of Plaintiff Doe 114 by forbidding him any interaction with fellow residents. As part of one of Plaintiff Doe 114's final "Lifesteps," the group was taken to the Oregon Coast in the dead of winter and forced to walk out into the ocean until fully submerged—despite Doe 114 telling Defendants that he was unable to swim—during a cult-like, pseudo-religious "rebirthing" ceremony. This list of abusive acts is not exclusive.

1 Plaintiff Doe 114 did in fact suffer severe emotional distress as a result of this abuse that
 2 occurred as part of the Program, and such physical and psychological abuse of a child is beyond
 3 the bounds of all socially tolerable conduct.

4 276.

5 Defendants' counselors used the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, to
 6 intentionally inflict severe emotional distress through the abuse of Plaintiff Doe 114.
 7 Defendants' Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the 8 counselors' agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

9 277.

10 As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff Doe 114
 11 has suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe
 12 physical, mental, and emotional harm at the time of the abuse, as well as later-manifesting and/or 13 later-arising permanent psychological damage that was distinct in time and logic from what was

 15 damages in the amount of $1,000,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time

17 278.

18 As a result of Defendants' intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff Doe 114
 19 has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and

Defendants, acting within their special relationship, subjected Plaintiff Doe 114 to severe ridicule, harsh and unnecessary disciplinary measures, and denial of an education, as described above. Additionally, as part of the Program, Defendants' counselors would engage in denigrating, cruel, and abusive berating of Plaintiff Doe 114, frequently yelling at him, mocking him harshly and requiring other residents do so, and yelling at him that he was worthless. Defendants also required Plaintiff Doe 114 to submit to being observed while naked and getting dressed.

Defendants' administration of the Program was an intentional or reckless disregard of Plaintiff's feelings while in this responsible relationship. Defendants brutally invaded Plaintiff Doe 114's protected interest in his privacy, emotional health, and psychological well-being, and this invasion was of a sufficient quality or magnitude to warrant recovery of emotional distress damages. 6 Plaintiff Doe 116 did in fact suffer severe emotional distress as a result of this abuse that
 7 occurred as part of the Program, and such physical and psychological abuse of a child is beyond
 8 the bounds of all socially tolerable conduct.

9 316.

10 Defendants’ counselors used the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, to 11 intentionally inflict severe emotional distress through the abuse of Plaintiff Doe 116.
 12 Defendants’ Program was administered by their counselors within the course and scope of the 13 counselors’ agency as described in paragraphs 9 and 10, above.

14 317.

15 As a result of Defendants’ intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff Doe 116
 16 has suffered permanent and lasting damages including bodily harm at the time of abuse, severe
 17 physical, mental, and emotional harm at the time of the abuse, as well as later-manifesting and/or 18 later-arising permanent psychological damage that was distinct in time and logic from what was 19 suffered at the time of the abuse. These harms resulted in Plaintiff Doe 116’s non-economic
 20 damages in the amount of $1,000,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time
 21 of trial.

22 318.

23 As a result of Defendants’ intentional infliction of emotional distress, Plaintiff Doe 116
 24 has incurred and/or will incur in the future costs for counseling, psychiatric, psychological, and
 25 medical treatment. Plaintiff Doe 116 has also suffered lost economic opportunity for the 26 interruption of his studies. Plaintiff Doe 116’s economic damages total the approximate amount of $500,000.00, the exact amount of which will be proven at the time of trial.

8 Defendants, acting within their special relationship, subjected Plaintiff Doe 116 to severe
 9 ridicule, harsh and unnecessary disciplinary measures, and denial of an education, as described
 10 above. Additionally, as part of the Program, Defendants' counselors would engage in
 11 denigrating, cruel, and abusive berating of Plaintiff Doe 116, frequently yelling at him, mocking
 12 him harshly and requiring other residents do so, and yelling at him that he was worthless.
 13 Defendants also required Plaintiff Doe 116 to submit to being observed while naked and getting 14 dressed.

15 321.

16 Defendants' administration of the Program was an intentional or reckless disregard of 17 Plaintiff's feelings while in this responsible relationship. Defendants brutally invaded Plaintiff
 18 Doe 116's protected interest in his privacy, emotional health, and psychological well-being, and 19 this invasion was of a sufficient quality or magnitude to warrant recovery of emotional distress
 20 damages. As a result of this, Plaintiff suffered the damages described in paragraphs 317 and

During the various "Lifestep" group encounters, Defendants controlled the physical conduct of all of the residents and counselors, and directed, coerced, or required both other residents and staff to physically batter Plaintiff Doe 116 as part of the "Lifestep" program. Other residents were forced under duress to participate by threat of severe punishments if they did not appear to be participating fully in the physical assaults on their peers.

Specifically, during one "Lifestep," individual residents—including Plaintiff Doe 116—were required to "break into" a circle of other residents by running at the circle at high speed and physically fighting to gain entry while those in the circle linked arms and fought under the orders of Defendants to prevent entry. In the course of this activity, both the "defending" residents and those who were trying to break in sustained significant physical injuries. Plaintiff Doe 116 suffered injuries both as the individual breaking in and as one of the members of the circle.

325.

The "breaking into" the circle and defending it from other residents constituted harmful and offensive touching to which Plaintiff Doe 116 did not and could not consent. At all times relevant to this complaint, the persons who battered Plaintiff Doe 116 were acting under the forced compulsion or directions of Defendants.

326.

As a result of this physical battery at the orders of Defendants, Plaintiff Doe 116 suffered the damages described in paragraphs 317 and 318, above.

On information and belief, Plaintiff Doe 116 alleges that discovery will show that the terms of the contract—express or implied—included education sufficient to keep him on the same graduation track and curriculum level as his age-group peers who did not attend Mt. Bachelor Academy, humane living conditions, and treatment for any of Plaintiff Doe 116's emotional or psychological conditions. No term in the contract disclosed that the methods used at Mt. Defendants breached the express or implied terms of the contract by subjecting Plaintiff Doe 116 to the deprivation of educational services during punishment periods, a lack of transferrable education credits, intolerable living conditions, and severe physical and psychological abuse described above. Intentional Infliction of Emotional Distress

Plaintiff Doe 117 realleges and incorporates by reference paragraphs 1 through 11, above.

333.

Defendants formed a special relationship with Plaintiff Doe 117 by soliciting her and/or her parents to attend their "therapeutic boarding school," accepting her as a resident, and closely governing her conduct there. Defendants assumed in loco parentis responsibility for Plaintiff Doe 117's well-being, took charge of every aspect of Plaintiff Doe 117's life, and eliminated virtually all of Doe 117's interaction with the outside world. At the same time, Defendants ostensibly were instructing her on her emotional and psychological condition, assisting her in changing her behavior, and claiming to provide standard educational services. In creating this special relationship, Defendants' responsibilities towards Plaintiff Doe 117 included a specific duty to avoid the infliction of emotional distress.

334.

Defendants' counselors and other agents, using the Program described in paragraphs 6 through 8, above, knowingly and intentionally caused severe emotional distress to Plaintiff Doe 117 when they physically and psychologically abused her through the program. Defendants refused to allow Plaintiff Doe 117 unmonitored contact with her family, and would end calls or destroy letters if Plaintiff Doe 117 attempted to tell her family what was occurring. During all seven on-campus "Lifestep" group encounters (some lasting for several days without interruption), Defendants forced Plaintiff Doe 117 to endure temperature extremes, meal deprivation, sleep deprivation, denial of restroom use, and rotted food, as well as denigrating, cruel, and abusive shouting at Plaintiff.  3 In one Lifestep, Plaintiff Doe 117 was required to throw a tantrum as vigorously as possible until

 5 which she remained for several days. Throughout all of the Lifesteps and disciplinary actions, 6 Defendants constantly attacked Plaintiff Doe 117 for her sexuality, and banned her from

 16 Negligence

17 352.

18 Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by reference paragraphs 1 through 351, above.

19 353.

20 At all times relevant to this complaint, Defendants had a special relationship with all of 21 these Plaintiffs by virtue of Defendants' role as a residential boarding school, their control over 22 the lives of Plaintiffs, and their near-total elimination of all of Plaintiffs' contacts with the 23 outside world. Defendants also had full control over the actions of Defendants' counselors

1 Defendants knew that children were suffering physical and mental abuse in the Program
 2 run by Defendants' counselors, and that several children had gone so far as to kill themselves in 3 the course of the Program, specifically because of the Program. Defendants created and 4 maintained this Program, employed the counselors, and retained their exclusive right to control
 5 every aspect of the Program and the actions of the counselors within that Program.

6 355.

7 Defendants knew of the danger that they had created with the Program and/or given their 8 special in loco parentis relationship with Plaintiffs, yet Defendants did nothing to change the 9 substance or format of the program in any respect while Plaintiffs resided at Mt. Bachelor 10 Academy. In fact, the Program was institutionalized/ritualized abuse. Thus, it was foreseeable 11 — in fact certain — that unless Defendants changed the Program, children would continue to be 12 physically and mentally abused. Alternatively, Defendants knew that the manner in which 13 their minimally educated and untrained counselors conducted the Program caused physical and 14 mental injury to children, yet failed to more closely supervise and train their counselors to avoid 15 such injuries. It was therefore foreseeable that the refusal or failure to better train and supervise 16 their employees would result in continued abuse of children.

17 356.

18 Knowing of the risks of physical and mental injury posed by the Program and/or the 19 counselors' running of the Program, it was unreasonable for Defendants to fail to alter the nature 20 of the program or more closely supervise and train their agents and employees.

21 357.

22 Plaintiffs have a right to be free from physical and mental abuse at the hands of 23 Defendants' agents. Plaintiffs were all residents at Mt. Bachelor Academy, and thus were 24 within the class of persons to be protected by Defendants' proper operation of their Program.
